

■ PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

CELEBRATE – a la Kool & The Gang style! For our Design Award winners and IP Inside! honorees, the Design Awards Gala was a festive evening of fabulously inspired food and convivial company in a spectacular marquee setting. In fact, this is the time to recognize all the competition participants, win or lose, as they had put their hearts and souls into their projects, as well as invested much time and money into the entries.

This smashingly successful event was the effort of the DAG committee co-chairs, Bethe Cohen, ASID & Masumi Blair, who accomplished the incredible feat of getting the Tech Museum, Café Primavera, Bloomsters, and Danny Thomas Party Rentals to meet our stringent budget. IPs Dean Birinyi and Chimere rose once more to the occasion to support our chapter by donating services and products to the cause. Committee members Dolores Ayala & Aletha Mann did wonders with the raffles again, while Meera Chawla handled the A/V and Anna Sarkissian the music & wine (so I didn't have to do hand puppets or sing, and everyone had libations to enjoy). Additionally, Vivian Soliemani, ASID orchestrated the elegant décor, while Jane Higo managed the infrastructure. Volunteers Louise Crawford and Kate Puvogel were indispensable in coordinating the event, and creating beautiful graphics for our invites respectively. Kudos to the committee for this picture-book perfect event!

Of course, none of this would have happened without the hard work of the Design Competition Committee. Under the leadership of Barbara Jacobs, FASID, committee members Anna Sarkissian, Patty McDonald, ASID, Meera Chawla, Mary French and Jim Schwandt, veteran industry volunteer, spent countless hours overhauling the outdated competition guidelines, award categories, and policies while integrating a new element - IP Inside! - into the competition to honor the partnership between our IPs and designers. Additionally Mary, our PowerPoint wizard, created another artful presentation to showcase the award winning designs, and Barbara graciously agreed to present the Awards. Where will we be without this dedicated committee!? Please take time to tell the members you appreciate their work when you see them!

Marie Chan, ASID, CID

The 26th Annual Design Awards Celebration

■ Designer Challenge – A Journey to the Unknown, Part 3

Enigma 5 Team leader: Gina Viscusi Elson; Model: Magdalena Bogart; Kendall Argast-Watson; Gretchen Hill; Barry Johnson, ASID; Vicky Tsai, ASID

Enigma 5 met twice before the show. During the initial brainstorming session, the painting of a vase sparked the vision of a dress tight at the top, flared around the hips, and tapered around the calves. That quickly triggered the thought of a wrap the shape of an upside down tulip as a companion piece. Since Magdalena had once aspired to be a fashion designer, she was well equipped to sketch out the design as more ideas flew around. The team met again the afternoon prior to the event to review the materials found, and divvy up roles as well as responsibilities.

On the day of the show, the team arrived with carloads of goodies to cover all eventualities. Once settled into the dressing room, they saw their assigned materials: blue upholstery fabric with matching trim, floral chintz in crème, taupe, and blue, as well as chiffon in a coordinating color.

The team started to execute the design but fabrication constraints forced it to abandon its original intent. Inspired by the beautiful fabrics, the new concept soon took form: Flowing water, Asian inspired. To support this, the members decided to make a flowing long skirt with a bustle of chintz and chiffon. Things kicked into high gear with Vicky and Gretchen cutting and sewing (but having tons of fun in between), while Gina fashioned a fan-shaped high “collar” from the window shade. After full spectrum hand painted wall papers were tucked in to complement the palette, the butterfly pin and peacock feathers were added to create an exotic Oriental feel. Kudos to Enigma 5 for rising to the occasion, conjuring up a creation in short order that truly reflected its theme!

Ruby Lips Couture Team Leader: Connie Sloma; Model: Julie DeMarchi Park; Idit Deutsch; Florencia Djoe; Michelle Hocker; Doreen Yun

The team name was coined during casual conversation about a team member's lipstick color, and voila, Ruby Lips Couture was born! Connie, as team leader, realized that they had to be really organized to meet the 90 minute deadline. So she divided up the tasks – Michelle, Idit and Doreen would create the design and come up with a drawing of the dress, she and Florencia would fit out and fabricate most of the garment, while Julie would be the model. Connie kept the team on track and created its team T-shirt, replete with the Ruby Lips logo!

Each team member had a list of items to bring, including 2 images from web or print sources for inspiration. Once the team settled into their dressing room, all the pictures were laid out, and Michelle started sketching. In about 4 minutes, the design was done, and the team promptly began fabricating the dress using their assigned fabrics: a floral print, coordinating stripe, trim, and solid velvet.

Connie proceeded to cut and fit the fabrics while Florencia hemmed. Separately Michelle and Idit combined the woven shade and striped fabric and turned them into a bustier, as Doreen sat quietly cutting out flowers from the floral fabric so they can be hot glued onto the dress. A couple of sprays of striking artificial flowers were tucked into the waist band, and as a finishing touch, the hat was covered with feathers and flowers in a tribute to Earth Day, the day the Designer Challenge was held. Florencia had brought some outrageous orange eyelashes, and on a whim, Connie added them to complete the look – arguably the most colorful and color-coordinated eyelashes of the evening!

The Finale

Although all the teams came out with outstanding creations, and it was a tight contest, Ruby Lips Couture won our first Designer Challenge’s “Fashion Design of the Year” Hat and Sash. Congratulations!

As it can be seen, each team had its own approach to tackling the Designer Challenge, but the randomness of the fabrics drawn that evening added an extra edge to the event. Thanks to those who took up the challenge to help and/or participate in the teams, our Magical Mystery Tour came through with flying colors. In the end, we all learnt something, and everyone had fun - some are already looking forward to the next Show...

Special mentions to those who contributed above and beyond the Call of Membership: Pauline Hsu, Carla Murphy, Connie Sloma, Paula McChesney, and Sharon Daroca, who volunteered Kevin Daroca to be our Emcee!

Seeking Future Chapter Leaders

Make great contacts while contributing to the chapter by serving on the Board or a Chapter Committee - it's a win-win! Email the office and let us know: admin@asidcapen.org.

Eblast Policy

As an additional benefit to our Sponsorship Packages, the Board has created a new Eblast Policy:

1. An IP Sponsor can now purchase eblasts beyond the amount provided by its Sponsorship Package. The Sponsor's announcement will be included with the chapter's weekly eblast if received by Tuesday, the week prior. Cost is $750/eblast.
2. The chapter will eblast without charge, events or programs created and overseen by the chapter for the benefit of its membership. Major ASID National events may be included, as a courtesy, on space available basis.

INDUSTRY PARTNER TESTIMONIALS:

Windows and Beyond

Doreen Yun, owner of Windows and Beyond, has more than twenty years of experience helping designers and clients find the best window treatments for their project. The Fremont location is a Hunter Douglas Gallery showroom exhibiting vignettes, furnishings, accessories and lighting, while the Mountain View store offers a smaller sampling of window treatments. Doreen cares about Designers and their clients. As a matter of fact, on numerous occasions, she has personally assisted me helping my clients understand the product. Doreen and her staff are courteous, professional and add a dash of niceness, and that just makes her down-right, "the Best". I would recommend Windows and Beyond as your one stop shop for window treatments! Try Doreen's stores, you won't be disappointed!

Vote for Trees

A donation to Sustainable Harvest International has been made in honor of ASID CA Peninsula Chapter

by Votenet Solutions, Inc.

As a special thank you for your VOTING on DEMAND purchase, ten tree seedlings have been provided to impoverished farming families in Central America. Sustainable Harvest International's local staff will provide the families with training and support to make these trees an integrated part of their farms. As the trees grow, they will prevent erosion, provide food and income for the families and help to restore the rain forest. Thank you for helping to create a lasting legacy of poverty alleviation and environmental protection.

Gentry: Celebrate Design!

Pejman and Gentry Magazine Roll Out The Red Carpet For You!

Usually, you're not into garden parties. In fact, if we said, "you're invited," you'd probably recall a previous engagement.

But what if we said this garden party will be hosted in three acres of a Spanish Colonial Garden built in 1929, where fine wine will be served with ecologically guilt-free gastronomy prepared by Google's former chef, Charlie Ayers, himself?

Yes, outdoor furniture will be present, but not the plastic chairs normally crowding such events. After all, One Kings Lane – the online destination for designer home decor sales – wants you to look good when your photo is taken in the "Garden of Delight." If you're lucky, you'll appear in the next issue of Gentry alongside award-winning designers also in attendance.

So mark your iCal for Tuesday, August 3 from 5:30 to 8:00 pm. Sprinkles' cupcakes are sure to tempt you, but don't worry – what no one sees, no one counts. Think of it as a small price to pay for after-hours access to the world's finest collection of carpets and tapestries at Pejman Carpet and a tour of California's landmark, Allied Arts.

Suddenly, that previous engagement appears to be scheduled for another day.

Come celebrate the winners of the ASID Design Awards featured in Gentry Magazine's August edition.

Brought to you by Calafia, Gentry Magazine, One Kings Lane, Sprinkles Cupcakes... and of course, Pejman Carpet.
